VOLUME 1.

EAST SAGINAW, MICHIGAN, AUGUST 25, 1859.

NUMBER 5.

Business Directory.

East Saginaw Courier.

GEO. F. LEWIS, Proprietor.

Published every Thursday morning at the City of East Saginaw, Michigan.

TERMS :- $1.50 a year. Invariably in advance. RATES OF ADVERTISING.

One square (16 lines or lem) 3 weeks,

One fourth Column, I Year,

thalf whole Business Cards, 5 lines or less, 3.00 Other terms made known on application at the Business Directory gratis.

JOB PRINTING.

Connected with the Courier office is a New and Extensive Jon Painting Establishment, wherein Plain and Organishmental Printing of every description will be done in the latest and most fashionable style, Patronage is salicited. GEO, F. LEWIS.

Post Office Notice.

MAILS ARRIVE. Eastern Malis daily at 6 P. M.
Partenools & Bay City mall daily at 6 P. M.
Way mail from Flint daily at 124 P. M.
Vassar & Tuscols, mail somi-weekly,
Tuscolay and Fridays.
Saginaw City mail daily at 2. P. M.
MAILS CLOSE.

MATI-S CLOSE.

Bastern mails duity at S P. M.
Portamouth & Bay City duity at 7 Λ. M.
Way mail to Flint duity at 1 P. M.
Vassar & Tussela, Semi-weekly mail Mondays and Thursdays at 1 P. M.

Saginaw City Mail daily at 12 M. Office home from 7 A. M. to 12; P. M., and from 1 P. M. to 8; P. M.

East Saginaw, August 4, 1859. W. L. P. LITTLE & CO.,

Bankers and Exchange Brokers, buy and sell Ex-change, Bank Notes, Gold and Silver, &c. Will give prenapt attention to Collections, and remit drafts at current rates. Taxes paid for non-residents, and all matters connected with a Land Agen-ey promptly attended to EAST SAGINAW. W. L. SHERMAN.

Exchange Office, will buy and sell Notes, Mortgages Drafts, &c., and encurrent money. All collections promptly attended to. Office at Bay City; Bay County, Michigan. BAY CITY. WEBBER & WHEELER.

Attorneys and Connsellors at Law and Solicitors in Chattery. Agents for buying and selling Lands, paying Taxes, &c. Office, corner of Water and Genesee streets.

EAST SAGINAW.

BYRON B. BUCKHOUT. Wholesale and Retail dealer in English and American Hardware, Cultery, Iron, Agricultural Implements Stovee, Copper, Tin and Sheet Iron Ware, &c. Brick Block. HAST SAGINAW.

HARVEY JOSLIN. Attency and Consultor at Law and Solicitor in Chancery. Office in the Enterprise building up stairs. EAST SAGINAW. CURTIS, BLISS & CO. _

Wholesale and Retail dealers in Dry Goods, Groce-ries, Crockery, Clothing, Hate, Caps. &c. EAST SAGINAW.

HESS BRO. & CO. Dealers in Drugs and Medicines. Patent Medicines &c. &c. Opposite Brick Hotel.

II. MARKS.

Dealer in Hate, Capa, Fore and Skins, Ready Made Clothing, Gloves, Ac. Opposite Brick Retel. EAST SAGINAW. MERSHON & BROS.

Will attend to the Parchase, Shipment and Inspec-tion of Lumber on Seginaw River. Post Office Address, EAST SAGINAW.

JABEZ G. SOUTHERLAND.

Attorney and Counsellor at Law, and Proctor in Admiralty.

JAMES BIRNEY. Attorney and Counsellor at Law, Solicitor in Chances, and Notary Public. BAY CITY.

MOORE & GAYLORD. Attorneys and Counsellors at Law, Solicitors i Chancers, &c. Office in the Court House, SAGINAW CITY.

G. W. BULLOCK. Dualer in Dry Goods, Groceries, Crockery, Hardware Cutlery, Boots and Shoes, Clothing, &c. Hamilto-Street, SAGINAW CITY.

C. H. FREEMAN, Attorney and Counseller at Law, Solicitor and Coun sellor in Chancery, Commissioner for the State of New York. Office over Watson's Store. BAY CITY. H. S. PENOYER,

Attorney and Counsellor at Law, Land, Tax, and Collecting Agent. Office in the Court House, SAGINAW CITY. WILLIAM L. SHERMAN, Practitioner at Law, in all the Courts of the State of Michigan. All business carefully attended to BAY CITY. WOODWORTH & WILSON, Attorneys and Counsellors at Law, Land and Tax Paying Agents, MIDLAND CITY. WILLIAM L. WEBBER.

United States Commissioner for the District of Michigan, Office, EAST SAGINAW. DILLINGHAM & ROBINSON. Attorneys & Counsellors. EAST SAGINAW.

D. W. C. GAGE. Attorney and Counsellor at Law, and Solicitor in Chancrey; also Dand and Tax Agent. EAST SAGINAW.

AMBROTYPES.

EASTMAN, HAVING FITTED UP ROOMS prepared to take Ambrotypes in superior style, and put them up in beautiful cases just received by Express. Good pictures taken as low as FIFTY CENTS

NOTICE. THOSE INDEBTED TO US EITHER ON NOTE

or account, are requested to call and settle the une without delay, as we are determined to close all scounts. Hereafter our terms are Cash.

COPELAND & BARTOW.

East Saginaw, June 11, 1859. ARGE BOX STOVES FOR STORES, SCHOOL

BEET MUSIC-IN GREAT VARIETY THIS received by express, and for sale by A. FERGUSON.

HRESHING MACHINES, HORSE POWERS Wood Sawing Machines, built and repeated wit ness and dispatch by HESS & BRO. ND-IRONS FOR SALE AT THE EAST SAGI naw Foundry and Machine Shop, on the Dock. HESS & BRO. TIX NEW TURNING LATHS, PINISHED AND ready for sale, cheap. - Enquire of sale, cheap. Enquire of HERS & BRO.

MR. PETERS' FIRST WIFE.

'Dear! dear! no toast, eggs boiled hard as brickbats, and the coffee stone cold! and Mr. Peters rose from the breakfast table in a temper by no means amiable, and rang the bell violently. There was no answer! He rang again, a third, fourth time, still no answer. Out of all patience, he went to the door and called - Maria! Maria!

A slight, pretty little woman, dressed in a soiled, tumbled wrapper, with hair $2000 in a state of direful confusion, answered the summons. She had one of those round, bright faces which Nature intended should be decked with continual smiles, Nec.

Yearly advertisers will be entitled to a card in the but now, with all its roses in bloom, it was drawn out to its full length, and the large blue eyes had a serious, or rather doleful expression, totally at variance with their usual joyous look. Her voice too, had lost its melodious sound, and was subdued to a dismal whine. "What is it. Joseph?"

'Where's Bridget?' 'Gone out for me. I want more white ribbon for my ascension robe.'

Mr. Peters said a very naughty word and then continued, 'cold coffee, hard eggs, breakfast not fit to eat.' 'I wish,' whined his wife, 'you would think less of temporal matters, and turn your attention to the great end of life.' Hang it all, madam, I would like to enjoy life while I have it. Here was I, the happiest man in the United States, with a pleasant home, a chatty, cheerful, loving wife, and good, quiet children; and now, since you have joined the Millerites, what am I?'

'Oh, Joseph, if you would only come into that blessed circle?' 'Oh, Maria, if you would only come out of it. Where are the boys?"

'I am Sure I don't know.' 'Are they going to school to-day?' 'My dear, their teacher has given up the school, and is turning her mind to more exalted objects. Oh! Joseph, turn now while there is time. You have still a week for preparation and repentance.'

Repentance! Well, when I take up the subject, it will take rather more than a week to put it through.'

And Mr. Peters put on his coat and ook up his hat.

'Joseph,' said his wife, 'you need not send home any dinner. I shall be out, and I will take the boys over to their

Joe made no answer, no less the violent-ly emphatic manner in which he closed the door was one. Muttering with anger, he strode into a restaurant to make a breakfast. Here he was hailed by one of his bachelor friends, Fred Somers, who looked up as he heard Joe's order.

'Hallo!' he cried, 'you here? Why, what are von doing time? Wife sick?

'Had a quarrel?' 'Gone out of town?'

'No! 'Then why don't you breakfast at home? Chimney on fire?'

'Servants all dead?'

'Children sick?' 'Then, what in thunder is to pay?'

'Maria's joined the Millerites! Fred gave a long whistle, and then said, "Going to ascend next week?"

'Yes, and if I don't commit suicide in the meantime, you may congratulate me. I am almost distracted. Can't get a decent meal, children running riot, servants saucy, house ail in confusion, wife in the blues, either quoting the speeches of the elders at me, or sewing on a white robe, and groaning every third stitch. Hang it all, Fred, I've a great mind to take poison, or join the army.' 'Hem!' you give an enchanting pic-ture, but I think I can suggest a cure.' 'A cure!'

'Yes, if you will promise to follow my advice, I will make your home pleasant, your wife cheerful, and your children hap-

'Do it,' cried Joe, 'I'll follow your word like a soldier under the officer .-What shall I do?

At tea time Mr. Peters entered his home whistling. Maria was seated at the table, sewing on her white robe, and there were no signs of preparation for the evening meal.

'Maria, my dear,' said Mr. Peters cheerfully, 'is tea ready?"

'I don't know,' was the answer, 'have been out all day, attending meeting.' 'Oh, very well, never mind. Attending meeting? You are resolved, then, to

'Oh, Joe, I must go when I am called.' 'Yes, my dear, of course. Well, I must resign myself, I suppose. By the way, my dear, has it ever occurred to you that I shall be left a widow with three children? I think I am a handsome man yet, my love, and Joe walked over to the glass, passed his fingers through his hair and pulled up his shirt collar. Maria looked up, rather surpris-

You see, my dear, it is rather a relief must go, I have been thinking of getting another wife.

'What?' cried Mrs. Peters. 'Another wife, my love. The house must be kept in order, and the boys car-

The grief was gone from Maria's face, but her teeth were set with a look of fierce wrath.

'Another wife, Joe! another wife!' 'Yes. I think I have selected a good successor. I deliberated a long time, when I was a bachelor, between her and yourself. You will like her, for she is your bosom friend.' 'My bosom friend!'

'Yes, my dear. I think on the day that you ascend, I will marry Sarah Ingram.'

"What! that good-for-nothing, silly, empty-headed old maid, the mother of my children! What!"

'Well, my dear, it seems to be the best I can do! I don't want to leave my business to go a courting, and she will have me, I know.'

'No doubt! Oh, you great brutal, hate-'Stop, my dear, don't fly into a fury!

We will try to spend our last week in happiness. Oh, by the way, I have a proposition to make.' 'Go on, sir-don't spare me!'

'Ah, yes, that is the very thing I wish to do. I know your mind is entirely engrossed with your ascension, and I wish to spare you the care of the house .-Suppose you invite Sarah here to-morrow, to spend a week."

What? 'Then I can arrange our matrimonial preparations in the evening, while you are at the lecture.' 'What?'

'And you can leave the house in her charge all day. That will give you plenty of time to go out, and she can learn the ways about in the house.'

What? 'And, my dear, one little favor. It may be the last I shall ever ask. Stay at home one or two days, won't you, and show her round, where you keep things, and so on, so that she won't have any trouble in keeping order after you go .-You will do this to oblige me, won't you?"

Mrs. Peters, for an answer, rolled up the ascension robe into a ball and fireed it at Joe. The cotton seisson hashed and table-cloth followed this missile in such rapid succession, that he was unable even to fly. Then Maria's rage found vent in words.

you whistled when you came in! You ablest princes of his age, baving extend-will be very glad to have me go, and ed his authority over the greater part of I will stay, if it is only to spite you! I 1273, to the imperial throne. His elevawon't go! I tell you, Mr. Peters, I won't ion was owing principally to the wish of are come for.'

'I won't go!' But consider, my dear.'
I won't go!'
But what will Sarah think?'

'Sarah ! don't dare to mention Sarah to me again! I—I—oh!—I am fairly choking! and the little woman threw herself into a chair, in a fit of hysterics.

Next morning, Mr. Peters met Fred in the street.

Well, old boy, how goes it?" 'Fred,' was the reply, 'I am the hap-piest man in the world! I have regained of a busy, tattling old maid, who, under pretence of loving my wife was everlast-ingly interfering in all of our household arrangements."

'Then Mrs. Peters will not ascend?' 'No. If Sarah is to be my second wife, and step-mother to my children, Mrs. P. concluded she wouldn't go.'

John, with quite as serious a countenance

ROMANCE-READING IN THE UNITED STATES. the whole number published.

Swearing-It is well known that Gen-Washington had an utter abhorrence of Mrs. Peters' lip quivered, and her large blue eyes filled with tears. Joe longed to stop his heartless speech and comfort her, but he was fearful the desired effect was not gained yet.

So my dear, he continued, 'if you position.

The great pewer and ambition of the large was not gained yet.

The great pewer and ambition of the large was not gained yet.

Selected Loetry.

"SPEAK GENTLY TO THE ERRINNO

BY PREDERRICK GRORGE LEE Speak gently to the erring—
Ye know not all the power
With which the dark temptation of
In some unguarded hour;
Ye may not know how carnestly
He struggled, or how well,
Until the hour of weakness came,
And sadly thus he felli

Speak gently of the erring—
Oh! do not thou forget,
However darkly stained by sin,
He is thy brother yet.
Hotr of the self-same heritage,
Child of the self-same (hod,
He hath but stambled in the path
Thou hast in weakness trod.

Speak kindly to the erring— For is it not enough That inocence and peace are gone, Without thy censure rough! It surely is a weary lot That sin-crushed heart to hear; And they who share a happler fale Their chidings well may spare.

Speak kindly to the erring—
Thou yet mayst lead him back.
With hely words, and tones of love,
From Misry's thorny track.
Forget not thou hast often sinn'd,
And sinful yet must be:
Deal kindly with the erring one,
As God hath dealt with thee!

GOING UP AND COMING DOWN.

This is a simple song, 'tis true,
And somes like these are never nice;
And yet we'll try and scatter through
A pineh or two of good advice.
Then listen, pomous friends, and learn
Never to boast of much renown;
For fortune's wheel is on the turn,
And some go up, and some come down.

We know a vast amount of stocks
A vast amount of pride insures;
But fate has picked so many locks,
We wouldn't like to warrant yours.
Remember, then, and never spurn
The one whose hand is hard and brown;
Por he is likely to go up.
And you are likely to come down.

Another thing you will agree,
(The truth may be as well confessed,)
That "Codish Aristocracy"
Is but a scaly thing at best.
And though the fishes large and strong
May seek the little ones to drown,
Yet fishes all both great and small,
Are going up and coming down.

Our lives are full of chance and change, And chance, you know, is never sure; And twere a doctrine new and strange. That places high are most secure. And though the fickle god may smile, And yield the sceptre and the crown, The only for a little while; Then B goes up and A comes down.

This world for you and me, my friend,
Hath something more than pounds and Then let me humbly recommend
A little use of common sense.
Thus lay all pride of place aside,
And have a care on whom you frown
For fear you'll see him, going up,
When you are only coming down.

Sketch of the Austrian Empire.

MacGregor's admirable work on Europe enables us to use some very inforesting particulars on the size and progress of Austrian monarchial power;

The house of Austria derives its origin and the foundation of its power from Rodolph, Count of Hapsburg, in Switzer-'So! You and Sarah! That's the reason land. Rodolph, who was one of the abt of it; Switzerland, and distinguished himself ion was owing principally to the wish of 'But, my dear, you must go, if you doubted ability, capable of putting down the anarchy that hadlong prevailed in the greater part of the States included within the limits of the Empire, and who, at the same time, was not powerful enough to occasion any fear of his subverting the privileges of the different States. The family of the anciaent dukes of Austria of the house of Hamburg, having become extinct a short while previously to the elevation of Rodolph, their States were aken possesstion of by Ottocar, King of Bohemia, whose ascendency threatened the independence of the Empire. But Rodolph, having secured the sanction of my wife and domestic peace, and got rid of the Diet, declared war against Ottocar, whose forces were totally defeated and himself killed in the decisive battle of Marchfield, in 1278. This formidable competitor being removed, Rodolph had little difficulty in procuring from the diet the investure of the duchy in favor of his eldest son; and it has ever since continued in the possession of his descendant, and formed one of the principal sources of SAVING TIME.—A clergyman, who enjoys the substantial benefits of a fine farm, was slightly taken down, a few days ago, by his Irish plowman, who was Swiss revoluted from his dominion in 13-7 sitting at his plow, in a tobacco field, and after a lengthened contest achieved resting his horse. The reverend gentle- their independence. But not withstandman, being a great economist, said with ing this event, and the elevation of sev-great seriousness—"John, wouldn't it be eral princes of other families to the imweel for you to have a stub scythe perial throne, the power of the House of here and be hubbeing a few bushes along of Austria rapidly increased, and in no the fence while the horse is resting;" very long time its dominisons embraced very long time its dominisons embraced some of the largest and most important as the divine were himself, replied: countries of Europe. It has been prin-Wouldn't it be well, sir, for you to cipally indebted for its extraordinary have a tub o' potatoes in the pulpit aggrandizement to fotunate alliances.—

when they are singing, to peel 'em awhile to be ready for the pot?"

The marriage, in 1477, of Maximilian, son of the Emperor Frederic III, with the daughter and heiress of Charles the Bold, the last Duke of Burgundy, brought to the House of Austria all the rich inheritance of the latter in the Low Coun-The people of the United States show a strong predilection for a light and fictions literature. Of two thousand old and new columes issued in this country in a recent year, about one-half were in Italy and the New World. And Ferman and the New World. And Ferman and the New World. works of fiction or imagination. In dinand I, having married in 1521 Anne France only about one-ninth are works of sister of Louis, Kingof Hungary and Be the same class, and in England works hemia, succeeded, on the death of the latthese States. There is, therefore, as much of truth as of point in the lines,

"Bella gerant alil. tu felix Austria, aube, Nam quae Mars allie dat tibi regna Venne." You see, my dear, it is rather a relief for you to go quietly, you know. It is so what he called "the foolish and wicked habit of profane swearing," and did his utmost to suppress it among both officers and soldiers. In conclusion of one of his reproofs, after speaking of its impiety has adds: "It is a vice so mean and low Germany. And there can be little doubt that the adds: "It is a vice so mean and low Germany. And there can be little doubt that the adds: "It is a vice so mean and low Germany."

princes of the House of Austria, excited a well-founded alarm amoung the other free exercise of the Protestant religion.

For a lengthened period the Turks held the greater portion of Hungary: but in 1699, they were finally expelled from that kingdom; and the armes of Prince six. Eugene gave the Austrians an ascendency over the Ottomans they have ever since preserved. ces of Lorrain, Grand Duke of Tuscany, succeeded to his dominions, and, eventufrom the reforms he effected in most departments of the Government, and the territories he added to the Empire. It has been objected to the former that they were not introduced with sufficient caution, and that he would have accomplished more had he attempted less. No ancient prejudices, and that his innovations were frequently neither appreciated nor approved by those for whose benefit they were intended; but there can be no doubt as to the rectitude of his intentions and, notwithstanding the obstacles he experienced, his reforms and the change he intro.luced into the mode of government have been productive of the greatest advantage. Under his reign, Galicia was acquired from Poland and the Bukowine from Turkey. It would be unnecessary, even if our limits admitted of it to attempt any sketch of the fluctuations of Austrian power during the eventful period that has elapsed since the breaking out the French revolution in 1789. At certain stages of her great struggle with France, Austria seemed to be depressed almost to the rank of a second rate power. But the insatiable ambition of Napoleon effectend of the contest as powerful as ever; the losses of the Low countries being fully compensated by her acquisitions in Italy and elsewhere.

In 1804. Francis assumed the title of hereditary Emperor of Austria, and on the 6th of August, 1809, he renounced the title of Emperor of Germany. This latter event had been preceded by the formation of the Confederation of the Rhine, and the entire dissolution of the old Germanic constitution. The Emperor, Ferdinand I., born 19th April, 1793, succeeded his father, Francis I, 2d March, 1835. The present Emperor ascended the throne in 1849, on the abdication of his uncle.

DR. FRANKLIN ON DEATH .- In the published works of Benjamin Franklin, occurs the follwing beautiful and highly

"We have lost a most dear and valuable relation. But it is the will of God and nature that these mortal bodies be aside when the soul is to enter real life. This is rather an embryo state; a preparation for living. A man is not completely born until he is dead. Why should we grieve when a child is born to immortality? A new member added to their happy socity? We are spirits! That bodies should be lent us while they can afford us pleasure, assist us in acquiring knowledge, or doing good to our fellowcreatures, is a kind and benevolent act of God. When they become unfit for these purposes, and afford us pain instead of pleasure, instead of aid become an incumberance, and answer none of the inten-

he has gone to follow, and know where to find him?"

he has gone to follow, and know where to find him?"

he sprang upon a third negre, but was londer to find with a load of buckshot from a gan opportunely brought by the overseer." Young men don't rely upon friends .-

Case of Russian Justice.

European powers. For a lengthened period the whole politics of Europe, its alliances and its wars, had little other ob-Last December an officer in the ele-Austria. This was the motive of the ing young girl enter. He followed her, thirty years' war, terminated by the treaty of Westphalia in 1648, which sees grace, and the freshness and tender-nection with the adoption of a constitucured the independece of the different ness which distinguished her. On her tion by the people of Kansas, non-inter-States of the Germanic Empire, and the retireing he learned that she was the vention was the loud and universal cry indulged in a sumptuous dinner, inflat of its non-submission to the people by ming his passions with costly champagne. their own authorized convention. In 1740 the male line of the House of Hapsburgh terminated by the death of the Emperor Charles VI. But his daughter, Maria Teresa, married to Frances of Lorrain, Grand Duke of Tuscany, cloak, lifted into the troiks, carried off to mocracy stand solemnly committed to this ally, to the imperial crown. Shortly after her succession, Frederic the Great, lonely house and there brutallity ravished, Nebraska act, and of the Cincinnati plat-King of Prussia, seized upon the greater after indignantly rejecting every kind of form which adopted the principle of that part of Silesia. The recovery of this bribe. But her resistance was so violent measure. province was the principal object of Austria and her allies in the seven years' war, tria and her allies in the seven years' war.

But his Prussian majesty triumphed over all his enemies; and Silesia was finally ceded to Prussia, by the treaty of Hubertsburg, in 1763.

The regin of Joseph II, the son and successor of Maria Theresa, is important from the reforms he effected in most defatigable in his inquiries, discovered that the conficers had suddently appeared.

Kansas-Nebraska act was, that the destinics of slavery in the Territories should depend upon the will of the people thereof, limited only by such restraints as should be imposed by the decision of the Supreme Court of the United States as to the constitutionality of their nets.—
The Southern representation in Congress. three officers had suddently announced themselves sick, to hide the scars in their provision and principle, declaring that faces, wrote a petition to the Emperor, it was all the South wanted. They reand succeeded in awaking his sympathy.

The police master was summoned, and the Czar charged him instantly to procure a the action of the Territorial legislature in doubt, thus it be admitted he did not make sufficient allowance for the inveteracy of ancient prejudices, and that his inners.

The ciriminal was Prince and correction by the Supreme Court.—

Galitzin.

half his worldly goods, making her at tories. With that cheek upon Territorial once very wealthy, and then immediately legislation against slavery, they considissued a ukase of divorce, leaving her entirely free. All the three officers were sufficiently secured; and hence they Never was poetical justice more rapid Territories.

pick up the Erie Observer, edited by SLOAN, who is one of the best fellows living, without finding something good in it. From the last number we cut the following:

"Talk about Piecolomini, Strakosch, and the other fashionable singers; there is not a mother, son or daughter in our goodly city, or in the country either, that in the morning, throw up the window; if it is not already up, which it ought to be, and let in the voice of the birds. Listen!
—there is a Robin—can Piccolomini beat that?-there goes an Oriole, Jenny Lind is nowhere; hear that Blue bird. how it stretches its little throat, and tries to lift its voice above the rest of the feathered band! And now they are all in tented with that, rather than by demandchorus, Robin, Oriole, Blue-bird, Cat-bird, even to the little Wren; did art ever produce anything equal to it?—did mortal voice ever sing His praises half as gladly, half as sweetly, or half as effectively? We doubt it!—And yet how few enjoy it—simply be-cause it costs nothing, and is not 'thefashion!"

We do not counsel unworthy submission to wrong, when we advise that the South shall adhere to a policy to which she gave her free consent and approval.

CONFLICT WITH A CATAMOUNT .- The account of a terrible conflict between a catamount and some negroes on the plantation of Mr. Thomas S. Bisland, of St. Mary. The animal, having pursued the negroes into the house, calmly seated by the first year of its institution, 1780.—Starkes dam. Reel: is by the English because, instead of aid become an incumbecause, and answer none of the intententions for which they were given, it is equally kind and benevolent that a way
is provided by which we may get rid of them.

Death is that way. We ourselves in some ceases, prudently chose a partial death. A mangled, painful limb, which tentions for which they were given, it is equally kind and benevolent that a way
is provided by which we may get rid of
them.

Death is that way. We ourselves in some ceases, prudently chose a partial death. A mangled, painful limb, which tentered the parlor or sitting room and took formal possession, and when the door was opened by a negro man he flew at him and seized him by the throat. The negro was a powerful man, and after being severely lacerated got him under his feely, since the pain goes with it; and the who quits the whole body, parts at once with all pains and possibility of pains and diseases it was liable to, or capable
of making him suffer.

Our friend and we were invited abroad
of making him suffer.

Our friend and we were invited abroad
of making him suffer.

Our friend and we were invited abroad
of making him suffer.

Our friend and we were invited abroad
of making him suffer.

Our friend and we were invited abroad
of making him suffer.

Our friend and we were invited abroad
of making him suffer.

Our friend and we were invited abroad
of making him suffer.

Our friend and we were invited abroad
of making him suffer.

Our friend and we were invited abroad
of making him suffer.

Our friend and we were invited abroad
of making him suffer.

Our friend and we were invited abroad
of making him suffer.

Our friend and we were invited abroad
of making him suffer.

Our friend and we were invited abroad
of making him suffer.

Our friend and we were invited abroad
of making him suffer.

Our friend and we were invited abroad
of making him suffer.

Our friend and we were invited abroad
of making him suffer.

Our friend and we were invited abroad
of making him suffer.

Our friend and we were inv ed himself on the front piazza scrutiniwhen, to the amazement of all present, he sprang upon a third negre, but was he summari in length.

Young men don't rely upon friends.—
Don't rely upon the name of your ancestors. Thousands have spent the prime of life in the vain hope of those whom they called friends; and thousands have slaved because they had a rich father.—
Rely upon the good name which is made by your own exertions; and know that better than the best friend you can have is unquestionable determination united with decision of character.

ger!— you are the needle of our national compass, the coloring matter of all our affairs, the active principle of our agitations, the director of our political ceremonies; you make Presidents! you make senators; you raise small men and knock down great ones. O wonderful nigger: you are the black prince of fusion, diffusion and confusion. You ought to be broke of your office kicked out or requested to resign!—Erchange ger!- you are the needle of our national

NON-INTERVENTION.

"In the Presidential contest of 1856 That officer, with two of his friends, from rejecting that constitution, because

"The principle as established in the Kansas-Nebraska act was, that the desti-But mark the punishment. The Czar instantly compelled him to marry the sufferer, endowed her on the spot with very from being established in the Territorial transferer. transported to a country regiment, deep in the heart of Russia, and were refused should not intervene or interfere pro any rise in military rank.

and more complete. The sentence does hoor to the Emperor, and almost makes thus unanimously assented to by Demons long in certain cases for an control tent despot. But this is not the only in-tent despot. But this is not the only in-stance in which Alexander II. has given the Southern people in 1856. The Deproofs of a good heart and great vigor. mocracy, as we have said, stands solemn-The circumstance has excited an im- ly pledged to this principle, the more mense sensation in the Russian capital, especially since the anticipated decision and will doubtless have good results. of the Supreme Court of the United States, as in the Dred Scott case, has BEAUTIFUL AND TRUE.-We rarely applied the limits which restrain the Tertroduction of slaves. It is proposed now by certain politicians at the South to recede from this principle, and to make an issue that Congress shall intercene with its legislation in behalf of slavery in the Territories. The proposition is one fraught only with mischief to the interests of the South. "It is not only a violent and wanton goodly city, or in the country either, that connot attend a better concert, 'without money, and without price,' every day of their lives, if they only are a mind to.—All they have to do is to get up at four in the morning, throw up the window; if umph and ascendancy of the Black Re-publicans, thus bringing on the South the greatest disaster that could befall When we already have such effectual security for our rights in the Terri-tories as is afforded by the Dred Scott decision, coupled with the policy of nonintervention, shall we not remain con-

THE AMERICAN HORSE STARKE, -Starke. Franklin (La.) Banner gives in detail an the winner of the Goodwood Stakes and Starkes dam, Reel; is by the English

he summarily executed with an axe, and

Mr. Marsh, an able chemist, found that Mr. Marsh, an able chemist, found that iron long under water, when reduced to powder, invariably becomes red hot, and ignites any thing it touches. A general knowledge of this is important, as it accounts for many spentaneous fires. A piece of rusty old iron, brought into contact with a cotton bale in a warehouse or on shipboard, may occasion much loss of life or property.